Then it'll be decided whether you can become a member of the badminton department of FSV Erlangen-Bruck.

In principle, we are open to all levels of play, whether hobby or ambitious team player.

You can find all information about membership (prices, duration, cancellation) for adults and children here in the application for admission.

5. How often do you have training times?

You can find the training times here. Ambitious team players can also, after consultation, take part in the guided training of ATSV Erlangen, with whom we have joint teams.

6. What type of training do you offer?

Most of the time we offer "free play". This means that during training, players of similar skill levels come together and play (usually doubles).

For those interested, we offer guided training in the Werner-von-Siemens Hall on Thursdays from 7:00 p.m. upon request.

Ambitious team players can also take part in the guided training on Monday at ATSV Erlangen (after consultation).

7. Do you have badminton teams and can I play there?

We currently have 5 teams in different leagues jointly with ATSV Erlangen. The teams are formed season by season. We are happy to accept new members into the teams if the requirements are suitable (e.g. level).

8. Do you also offer inclusive training? How can you participate here?

The inclusive training currently takes place on Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. in the Emmy Noether Hall. If you are interested in inclusive training, please contact Lana Lamsfuß (+49 1578 1625031)

9. Do I have to bring my own badminton equipment?

Yes, you should bring a racket and indoor shoes with non-marking soles. In exceptional cases, another member will probably lend you a racket.

Shuttlecocks are provided to the department (although limited)

10. Can I book a badminton court with you to play with friends?

No, that's not possible. Unlike commercial providers such as badminton halls, where you can rent a place for a group, as a club we mainly offer "free play". Depending on the availability of the places and the players present, you play together independently (usually as doubles).
